C. MONOLOGUE SCRIPT

Hello everyone. Do you like reading books? Have you ever heard of the book "Laskar Pelangi" or the Rainbow Troops written by Andrea Hirata? I am the third book of the Rainbow Troop tetralogy with the title "Edensor". The other three books are "Laskar Pelangi", "Sang Pemimpi" or "the Dreamer" and "Maryamah Karpov." I was published in 2007 and became a best seller like the other books in the tetralogy.

I tell the story of Ikal. Ikal is one of the members of the group named "Laskar Pelangi" or the rainbow troops (Book 1). I consist of 44 chapters, but the author calls them mosaics. My mosaics tell you about Ikal's life from his childhood until he becomes an adult. He got a scholarship from the European Union to study at Sornborne University in France. At university, he made friends with people from other countries with different cultures. The other interesting part is that I also describe Ikal's adventures in Europe and Africa with his friends.

I inspire people to keep dreaming like Ikal. Ikal's dream seemed impossible at first. He worked hard for his dream, and it did come true. One day, he had to visit his supervisor at his house in the country. While he was looking for him, he passed a beautiful village with green fields, crystal clear rivers, fountains, and buildings typical of rural England. This village was like the one Aling, his one and only love, always spoke about. But he was never sure if the village she called Edensor was real. He then asked a passer-by who answered, "Sure love, it is Edensor." See, it is amazing right? I hope you enjoy Ikal's adventures and learn from him through my mosaics.
